COVERS RICHEST GOLD AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Vol. 14, No. 80. The County Seat Paper NEVADA CITY, CALIFORNIA, The Gold Center THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1940

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Powder explosions coming in well ordered cycles, emery dust in essential defense machinery, the wreckage of a huge traveling crane, these coincident with other "accidents," point to planned sabotage on the part of nationals of foreign powers with which this nation for sometime has been virtually at war. The Dies committee raises its hue and cry but the department of justice thus far has made no arrests ,at least none that seem important.

We suspect that between the subversive elements in this country that were here long before war began, and the greatly augmented staffs of German consular and ambassadorial staffs there is a bond of understanding. Our government is at a disadvantage since it assumes a technical neutrality and cannot therefore order out of the country those Hitler agents whose destructive activities are masked under the cloak of diplomatic immunity. It is also at a distadvantage because for some years now communistic organizations have not only received every protection our constitution affords, but have been specially favored as members of, and sometimes the controlling influence in labor unions. The communistic connections of Edwin Smith of the National Labor Relations Board, for instance, have been well established. A list of some 300 other communists now in government employ has been published by the Dies committee, raising a great ruckus, but without many creditable denials. Although there is room for thinking the Dies committee may be addicted to scare mongering, the tremendous volume of smoke it creates indicate that there is smoldering fire somewhere.

The communists, fearing war will pitch this nation into the fascist ranks, are naturally fighting everything this country does in the way of aid to Britain, or to build up a military machine for ourselves. The Nazi sympathizers join forces with them to prevent aid to Germany's enemies. The result may be, indeed probably is, the series of "accidents" which have occurred during the month. New Jersey where most explosions take place, is notably a center of munitions industries.

For sometime we have waited for reports of the activities of the Justice Department. We note in press dispatches that the FBI is active and vigilant, yet the "accidents" mysteriously continue, apparently with contemptuous disregard of FBI sleuthing. We wonder how long the administration in Washington will be content with this record of futility.

We are especially suspcious of the greatly increased staff of such an old time comrade of Hitler, as Consul Wiedemann in San Francisco. When there is virtually no trade between this country and Germany, why should there be need of a small army of commercial attaches in either the German consulates or the embassy? But these so-called attaches are here, and the State Department thus far has done nothing about it, except to exclude known Nazi agents who have been already excluded by other nations in the New World. This was done apparently, more as a "good neighbor" action than as a protection to this country.

We have at hand no exact figures of the fatalities caused by this long series of "accidents" but the number of civilian dead now undoubtedly approaches a hundred. This, to all practical purposes, in war. Our enemies within our borders are deadly efficient and if they continue unchecked, can paralyze essential industries devoted both to defense and aid to Britain. We submit this situation calls for immediate and drastic action on the part of the Federal Government.

WILL PREACH IN G. V.

Man Held In Death Of Mrs. Houk

Charge of Negligent Homicide Placed Against Nelson Alexander, 53

Nelson Alexander, 53, of Walker Mine, Plumas County was taken into custody last night by Undersheriff William D. Woods on a charge of negligent homicide following the death of Mrs. Bertha Houk, 62, of Grass Valley, who was a passenger in Alexander's car when it collided with one operated by Milton Doolittle of LeBarr Meadows.

Alexander is held in the county jail here. He will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse in Grass Valley later in the week.

Reckless Driving Citation

Immediately following the accident, which occurred on the Colfax Highway, Alexander was cited by the California Highway Patrol for reckless driving. The more serious charge was placed against him after Mrs. Houk died at noon yesterday in the Landis-Lang Clinic in Grass Valley.

Harold Thomas 31, and Inez Thomas, 24, also occupants in the Alexander machine, suffered bruises and shock from the accident. Alexander was bruised but Doolittle, driver of the other machine, escaped injury.

May Be Inquest

The funeral services for Mrs. Houk are being arranged by the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary in Grass Valley. It is prorable Coroner A. M. Holmes will hold an inquest into her death.

The deceased leaves eight children most of them living in Kansas. Mrs. Houk had been a resident of Grass Valley for the past three years, living there with a daughter, Mrs. H. T. Everett.

One Pleads Guilty Other Not Guilty For Alpha Robbery

Although William Haines, 18, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary in connection with the recent robbery of the Alpha Store here, his accused accomplice, Charles Matlock, also 18, pleaded not guilty.

After entering his plea of guilty Haines asked for probation. His case will be investigated by Probation Officer A. W. McGagin.

Superior Judge George L. Jones set December 2nd as the date of the trial for Matlock, whom Haines named as his companion in the robbery.

Both youths were taken in custody in Reno, Nevada, a short time after the robbery. Most of the loot was recovered in the possession of Haines.

The Alpha Store was broken into during a weekend and guns, knives and many other articles, including dynamite and fuses.

HEARING WILL BE HELD ON HYDRAULICING

The California Debris Commission will hold a public hearing at 11 a. m. November 19th in room 208, postoffice building, Sacramento, to receive protests against granting the application of E. A. Hermanson to mine by hydraulic process the Indian Hill Mine located near Camptonville, Yuba County, draining into Indian Creek, then North Fork of the Yuba River, to store tailings in Bullards Bar Reservoir.

At the same time the commission will receive protests against granting the application of A. Tadolini, Howard F. Thompson, and Clifford A. Thompson to mine by hydraulic process the Grizzly Hill Mine, located near Downieville, draining into Grizzly Creek, then the North Fork of the Yuba River, to store tailings in Bullards Bar Reservoir.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL DRIVE WILL CONTINUE FOR WEEK; $175 OBTAINED IN THREE DAYS

Nevada City's Red Cross roll call drive, in its third day, has produced a total of $175, with but one territory completely canvassed.

Mrs. Pat Jackson, drive chairman hopes to complete the drive within the next week. Volunteers today continued their house to house calls and Mrs. Jackson is hopeful the local quota will be exceeded.

Response Gratifying

Mrs. Jackson reports the workers are enthusiastic and the response of the residents of the cty gratifying.

Besides the roll call volunteers already named Mrs. Roy Deeter and Mrs. George Davis have been selected to canvass the Glenbrook district and Mrs. Merle Morrison will assist in the drive on Long Street.

The drive got under way Tuesday with a "pep" dinner at the Nevada City High School. The dinner was cooked by Miss Mildred Severtson's boy's cooking class.

Thomas McCraney, president of the local Red Cross chapter, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Belle Douglas delivered the "pep" talk and Mrs. Jackson informed the workers of their duties. Forty attended the dinner.

The drive headquarters is in the Bank of America Building. The telephone number is 63. The workers will report daily to Mrs. Jackson. Mrs. Dave Richards, who had charge of the drive on Boulder Street, was the first worker to complete the canvass of her territory.

ENGINEER FROM LAND OF HEAD HUNTERS HERE

By EDW. C. UREN

Francis C. O'Connor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. O'Connor, is visiting at the home of his parents on Main Street.

Mr. O'Connor is supervising hydraulic operations in Peru, South America, on the eastern slope of the Andes Range and along the headwaters of the great Amazon basin where the rainfall, he states, is as much as 250 inches a year and it is not uncommon for it to rain as much as six inches in a single day.

The head hunters inhabit that inhospitable area of Brazil contiguous to the eastern boundary of Peru. These are the natives who practice the little known artistry of shrinking the decapitated heads of their victims to about one fourth of their natural size.

Several years ago, I believe it was Chester Barker who brought one of these heads to Nevada City and we recall the perfect miniature features. Even the pores of the skin were visible and the hair and eyebrows were perfectly preserved. It is claimed that the hair continues to grow on these heads, which are of the consistency of cured rubber, and about that color.

Think of hair growing on a pickled Indian's head, while we have wept and swore, taken vitamins and massaged our few remaining hairs, and all the while what's under our hats grows to look more and more like a peeled onion.

The gravel channels, according to Mr. O'Connor, are quite plainly of late glacial origin, the striation markings on the rocks being deeply cut and particularly noticeable. The deposits are of great extent, the gravel being uncemented and easily broken down by the hydraulic monitor. The gold has a fineness of about 930, is mostly coarse and bears evidence that it has been transported far as much of it is rough and has particles of quartz attached.

The country is primitive however and access to the mines can be made only on mule back—six days of it from the railroad. Provisions and supplies all have to be transported by the same means at a cost of five cents a pound.

Native labor is paid 36 cents a day, which is double what the worker receives on the coast. His wants are few and his living costs are almost nil.

Air transport is made practically impossible on account of the prevailing fogs which blanket the country almost continuously and, although the area is only twelve degrees south of the equator, the climate is always cool enough to require winter clothing the year around.

Lima, the capital, is a busy city of a million souls. It is situated on the west coast and has a climate, says Mr. O'Connor, very similar to San Francisco. The rainfall on the west coast though is very limited. The high Andes range of mountains, which extends for 4000 miles along the west coast of South America, with peaks that rise often to more than 17,000 feet are a bulwark that forces the moisture laden clouds to deposit practically all their rain on the east side of the range and the Amazon basin.

Mr. O'Connor has examined gravel excavations made, according to legend, more than three hundred years ago. Embankments more than a hundred feet in height and immense piles of large boulders removed from the workings and stacked to a height seemingly impossible except by mechanical means. Practically every trace of gold has been recovered, showing that these natives evidently knew how to mine even before the horse and buggy days.

Mr. O'Connor in a few days will return by way of New York to his field of labor. This is his first visit in two years.

FOREST RANGER CONFERENCE IS TO CLOSE TODAY

New Plan Inaugurated for Annual Gathering of Tahoe Staff

The annual fall conference for rangers in the Tahoe National Forest will come to a close today with the inspection of projects in the Downieville district.

The conference opened Tuesday in the Nevada City headquarters of the forest. The rangers, in company with the administrative staff of the local headquarters, then left for Forest Hill, where a study was made of the reforestation of the large area burned in the 1936 fire.

Yesterday the party went to Big Bend, later to Truckee and spent last night at the CCC camp at Hobart Mills.

New Policy

Supervisor Guerdon Ellis inaugurated the policy of taking the rangers throughout the various districts to acquaint them in the practices of individual rangers. Those on the trip are:

Supervisor Ellis, Assistant Supervisor Ernest L. Baxter, B. C. Goldsmith, logging engineer, Leland S Smith, associate supervisor, Clyde M. Gwin, executive assistant supervisor, G. E. Mitchell, forest engineer and District Rangers J. R. Hodgson at Big Bend, F. W. Meggers at Camptonville, F. B. Delaney at Downieville, Anselmo Lewis at North Bloomfield, H. I. Snider at Truckee, F. d. Land at Sierraville and Chas. Beardsley at Forest Hill.

SNOW SPORTS IS PREVIEWED

Skiers previewed the winter sports season in the Donner Recreational Area over the week end, according to Forest Ranger R. Hodgson at Big Bend ranger station. With 10 inches of snow on the summit, short runs were available along roadways and in cleared spaces comparatively free from rocks and stumps as far down as Soda Springs. Two minor injuries were reported, the casualties of the day consisting chiefly of broken skis rather than broken bones.

Three feet of snow on Castle Peak and Lincoln Peak put those areas in good condition, but Hodgson advises skiers generally to continue their skiing exercises at home and to not "obey that impulse" to get out in the snow until a heavier fall occurs. Insufficiently covered rocks and low stumps present a hazard, especially to inexperienced skiers who do not recognize them or realize the danger.

No ski tows were operating on the area, Hodgson reports.

Christmas Celebration Plans Formed At C. of C. Meeting Here Last Nite

Committees Named To Supervise Street Decorating And Conduct Outdoor Christmas Tree Contest Here

At a large and enthusiastic gathering of Chamber of Commerce members last night, plans for the Christmas season took form.

Within a short time a committee composed of Emmett Gallagher, Dwight Steele and Fred Garrison will supervise the decorating of the city with evergreen boughs and trees.

The chamber will ask the city for assistance in stringing colored lights throughout the business district.

Tree Contest

The chamber decided to hold an Outdoor Christmas Tree contest, with prizes being awarded to the best decorated natural and artificial trees. A committee consisting of Steele, Gus Presley, John Anargus, Mrs. Marriott and Bud Kyle was named by President Bert Foreman to handle the Christmas Tree contest arrangements.

The chamber members discussed the advisability of giving a children's Christmas party and Secretary H. F. Sofge was elected to contact the Women's Civic Club and other local organizations. The civic club annually gives a White Christmas for the children and an effort will be made to unite the two groups into giving one huge Christmas Tree.

Committee To Meet

The decoration committee will meet within a few days to decide whether the street decorations shall consist of evergreen trees only, three to a block on each side of the street, or boughs or both.

Chairman Steele of the Outdoor Christmas Tree committee will also hold a meeting soon to form rules for the contest. Prizes of $20 are expected to be awarded.

SCOTTS FLAT WPA WORKER HURT IN FIGHT

Two Companions Held in Jail Pending Outcome Of Injuries

Edward Howard, Scotts Flat Dam Works Progress Administration worker, remains in a serious condition in the county hospital here from a fractured skull and other injuries received during what officers say was a drunken brawl at the dam Monday night.

James William Taylor, 36, and John L. Lonegan, 44, fellow workers, are held in the county jail here pending the outcome of Howard's injuries.

Taylor Surrenders

Taylor walked into the cabin of E. A. Paxton, Nevada Irrigation District ditchtender, Monday night and said:

"I just killed a man."

Paxton called Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, who in company with Deputy Sheriff Ronald Fraser, went to Scotts Flat, where they took Taylor into custody and brought Howard to the hospital here.

Lonegan was arrested Tuesday afternoon.

Taylor told the officers he struck Howard on the head and shoulders with rocks during an argument which developed while the three men were drinking. Lonegan admitted being with the two but said he was asleep when the fight took place.

After knocking Howard unconscious officers said Taylor climbed onto an embankment and rolled huge boulders upon his victim to "stop the coyotes from getting him."

The officerse said it is a miracle Howard is still living.

ROTARY MEMBERS ENTERTAINED WITH MOTION PICTURES

With Carroll Coughlan as program chairman, the Rotary club members were entertained at the National Hotel here today with motion pictures on "Steel—Man's Servant."

The picture, produced by the United States Steel Company, was in technicolor and sound. Edwin C. Hill was the narrator.

The motion picture was shown here through the courtesy of H. E. Rogers, sales manager of the Columbia Steel Company of San Francisco.

TRIAL BY JURY MOTION DENIED

Superior Judge Warren Steel of Yuba County, sitting for Superior Judge George L. Jones, yesterday afternoon denied a motion for a jury trial in the case of Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., against Cooley Butler, operator of the Golden Center Mine.

Judge Steel will preside at the trial. Butler is charged in the suit with deliberately using the facilities of the Pennsylvania Mine, property of the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., in dewatering the Golden Center workings.

Carrington Returns—

Robert Carrington, pastor of the local Bethany Church, has returned from Turlock where he attended the convention of Christ Ambassadors, youth order of the church.

WOULD DONATE CANDY

To start the ball rolling for a successful Christmas party for Nevada City children, John Anargus of the Sweet Shop announced today he will donate 25 pounds of candy for such an event.

Anargus, one of the newest businessmen of the city, attended the chamber of commerce meeting last night at which plans were discussed for a children's Christmas party.

He said the idea is a good one and is willing to give the 25 pounds of candy.

VETERANS SEEK DESIRABLE SPOT TO MEET HERE

Banner Mt. Post Temporarily Meeting In City Hall Building

The Banner Mountain Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of this city, will continue to meet at the city hall here until a permanent meeting site is decided upon.

The post met at the city hall here last night. It was revealed the post has two locations under consideration. The matter will be taken up with the VFW auxiliary.

The veterans were forced to move from their Commercial Street headquarters because the group of buildings in which they were located will be torn down.

Howard C. Bennetts, post commander, said every effort will be made to keep the post's headquarters in Nevada City but if no suitable location is found it will be necessary to look elsewhere for a meeting site.

Several civic citizens of this city are reported to be assisting the post in its efforts to find a meeting spot here.

Barn Dance Planned—

Deschwanden Hall in Gold Flat is being decorated in preparation for the barn dance Saturday night of the Gold Flat Country Club.

Let Us Give Thanks

The early chill of winter creeps over the world.

In France, the suffering to come was presaged last week by a coal ration limiting families as large as nine persons to 430 pounds for an entire month. Not only cold, but hunger and malnutrition and resultant disease, must be the ordeal for millions in a score of nations.

No American family, not even the humblest and poorest, need look forward in dread of starvation and exposure. Rearmament costs may thin out the luxuries in American life; but our sick will be cared for, our destitute fed and clothed.

In Europe, governmental changes are being made monthly by ruthless decree at the point of the sword—with victors hunting down minorities like animals, with freedom of thought and speech and political action abrogated and sneered at.

In America, 50,000,000 citizens have just completed a major decision on government—divided so evenly in opinion that the minority is hardly 5,000,000 fewer than the majority. But no blood has flowed. The ranks of citizenry have closed up to march on united—the minority accepting the decision with good will, because no man in consequence of his stand is affronted or silenced. or penalized, or forced to abandon his convictions on right and truth.

In the bombed ruins of Europe's glorious cities, built by the toil and genius of centuries, young men die in uniforms and children huddle terrified in air raid shelters.

In the new, modern cities of youthful America, young men strive lustily in football suits, and carefree children play joyously in the bright sunlight of school yards.

Many among us have worries and unhappiness—business troubles, unemployment, illness, and plain tough luck. But unfortunate indeed must be the American who, contrasting the situation of himself, his family and his country with the grief and horror and privation beyond the seas, cannot give spontaneous and heartfelt thanks on Thanksgiving Day of 1940.—Contributed.

The Crusade Goes On!

Enough time has passed now since the presidential election so that tempers have cooled somewhat, bitterness has faded—and the good sportsmanship of the American people is starting to assert itself. In any crisis which may confront the nation, President Roosevelt will have the wholehearted, unselfish support of those who worked the hardest to defeat him. That is the way of America—and it is a good way, the very essence of American democracy.

Unity is now the keynote. And the American people, facing a need for united action to speed the national defense program, will move forward together. Any European war lord who thinks differently had better check up on American history.

There is a distinction here,, however, with a very real difference. Unity, in the United States of America, does not mean servility, nor subservience. In Nazi Germany, after Hitler came to power, "unity" was achieved by means of sending dissenters to concentration camps, or standing them up before firing squads. But in this country, fortunately, we recognize that a militant, organized minority is the best possible guarantee that the majority party will stay within bounds and keep faith with the people.

This election, as presidential elections go, was a hotly-contested, close race. Wendell Willkie polled the greatest vote ever recorded a Republican candidate for president in the history of the country. He acquired stature as a great crusader and a determined leader. And a switch of only about a million votes from the Roosevelt column to Willkie in key states would have made Willkie president. Some 22,000,000 voters swore allegiance to the principles of Willkie's crusade—and chanted "We Want Willkie" even in face of defeat.

Wendell Willkie has announced that he will continue to crusade for the principles he and his followers believe in; he has also announced he will work for "the unity of our people in the completion of our defense program, in sending aid to Britain and in removing class antagonisms in America." And that is probably the finest service he could render both his country and President Roosevelt. He is a worthy antagonist. And so long as he continues his crusade both the 26,000,000 who voted for Roosevelt and the 22,000,000 who voted for Willkie, will be fairly well assured of a square deal in the halls of government.—Contributed.

UP TO HIS OLD TRICKS

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder as Thanksgiving comes again
To find peace still abiding here,
If we who love our own, our cherished land
Will cast aside all doubt, mistrust and fear,
And then upon foundations of the past,
A greater, nobler temple build,
That future years may testify of us,
They wrought this miracle, because—they willed.

I wonder if you have made a complete list of those gifts of life and liberty for which you have cause to be grateful, not only upon one, but upon every day of the year. You may have tried, but in all probability, careful and painstaking though you were, many items may have been omitted. In this glorious America of ours, reasons for gratitude are too numerous to be readily counted.

Autumn came beneficently to these western shores. Clouds fathered, rain descended, and soon bright awakened streamlets were rushing down from the hills and through the pleasant valleys in search of the sea from whence they came.

Here, in our own lovely coign of the Sierras, as in many another wonderland of the Golden State, autumn leaves are fluttering down to rest, like parti-colored birds upon the soft wild grasses, which are already covering the brown earth with tapestries of living green. California is once again entering upon her, "half a year of clouds and flowers."

I wonder how we can be oterwise than thankful at this magic season of the year — thankful for the dear companionship of loved ones, faithful friends and kindly neighbors; thankful for social, educational and spiritual advantages, which at the present time are greater and more widely disseminated than at any other period of national history; thankful for the beauty which unfolds about us as the autumn days pass by; thankful for American homes both great and small, wherein the family group goes about daily activities in the enjoyment of those inherent rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness guaranteed under our democratic form of government; thankful that our starry flag still floats above a land at peace.

What of the nation's future in a world of wretchedness? That is for us to determine, for we, the people, by our thoughts, words and actions, the co-operation we give to those things which make for righteousness and the contributions we make to the cause of peace, national security and progress may further, or retard the bright destiny which is the goal of every true American's desire.

In these dark days of world distress, may America's star of destiny shine out, and may we gather inspiration from the lines written by our own California poet, Joaquin Miller, and determine to—"sail on."

"Then, pale and worn, he paced his deck
And peered through darkness. Ah, that night
Of all dark nights! And then a speck—
A light! A light! At last a light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled!
It grew to be time's burst of dawn.
He gained a world! He gave that world
Its grandest lesson: "On! Sail on!"

VOLUNTEERS FOR WILLKIE DISBAND

AN OPEN LETTER

To Willkie Volunteers in Nevada County:

Fellow Workers—

The Executive Committee of the Willkie Volunteers in Northern California, headquarters in San Francisco, on November 8th met and passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, the Willkie Volunteers in Northern California was established on May 24, 1940, for the sole and avowed purpose of bringing about the nomination and the election of Wendell L. Willkie as president of the United States;

"And Whereas, we organized on July 1, 1940 on the definite understanding that regardless of the result of the election we would disband our organization soon after election day;

"And Whereas, as individuals we are prepared to continue to serve the public welfare;

"Now Therefore, Be It Duly Resolved that we, the Willkie Volunteers in Northern California, in order to fulfill our pledge to the public, do hereby declare our organization to be dissolved and its activities terminated as of the 15th day of November, 1940."

This terminates the Willkie for President campaign to which we were pledged.

We supported Wendell Willkie because he was to us, a symbol of good government which we all most earnestly desire.

While the electorate of the United States, the state of California, and of our own county decided against us, we may feel that we put up a clean and earnest fight and, as chairman of our organization, I wish to thank you all for the good work which you have done to further our cause.

Thanks are particularly due to the Women's Volunteer Committee, which under the able direction of Mrs. C. E. Parsons, chairman, and Miss Alice Moore, secretary, most loyally executed the tasks to which they were assigned.

Investigation Continuing Into Fatal Shooting Of Lake Spaulding, Nev. County

Yuba County authorities are continuing their investigation of the slaying in Challenge of Boyd E. Stevenson, 26, Pacific Gas and Electric Company employee at Lake Sapulding, Nevada County.

District Attorney Joseph L. Heenan, who was on his honeymoon, terminated the trip to take over the investigation.

In the meantime James E. (Bud) Turner, 26, Downieville miner, is in the Yuba County Hospital, under arrest on an open charge. He is accused of shooting Stevenson in an attempt to force an "adequate" apology for the spilling of water on the party dress worn by his wife, Betty.

Turner Shot

Turner was shot in the leg with his own gun in a struggle for its possession with Herbert Yore of Oregon House and Edwin S. Van Dyke of Dobbins, witnesses to the shooting.

An all night dance was held at the Owl's Nest. At 5:30 a. m. Yore, who returned to the building for a pitcher of water, collided at the rear door with Mrs. Turner, spilling some water on her. It was reported Yore apoligized to her but she refused to accept and went after her husband.

Turner came from the hall and demanded an apology from Yore and from Stevenson and Van Dyke. The latter said they were not concerned.

"Make You Apologize"

"I'll be back in a few minutes and make you all apologize," Turned was quoted as saying. On his return the witnesses said he declared, "I'll make you apologize now," and opened fire.

Three shots were fired from the death weapon, a .35 caliber magnum revolver.

Stevenson was the operator of the P. G. & E. power plant at Lake Spaulding. Turner is a miner employed at the Colgate Tunnel. He formerly owned mining property near Downieville.

ENGLEBRIGHT URGES CENTRAL VALLEYS DAM DESIGNATED NATIONAL DEFENSE PROJECT

Congressman Harry L. Englebright of this city requested President Roosevelt to designate the $228,000,000 Central Valleys Project a national defense project to enable its completion by 1944 instead of 1946.

In a letter sent to the president, Englebright cited information furnished by the California Water Authority defense project. He urged at least $50,000,000 be appropriated for the 1942 fiscal year. Increased funds, it was pointed out by Englebright, would enable the completion of electric power transmission facilities of Shasta Dam by 1943 instead of 1945, and the remaining features by 1944 instead of 1946.

Additional Power Needed

The rapidly expanding national defense program, Englebright said, will require additional power in the area to be served by the project. He expressed the hope that, with presidential backing, congress may give the request consideration at the present session.

His letter to President Roosevelt states that of $73,200,000 already appropriated for the two year old project, some $51,000,000 had been expended by October 1st. The difference, he said, is ear marked to fulfill contractural obligations now existing.

Cooperation Expected

Englebright said:

"By speeding up the work through increased appropriations, the project can be completed two years ahead of the original completion time. I feel confident the president and the congress will appreciate the need for speed and their cooperation will be forthcoming."

The Shasta dam project is within the territory which Congressman Englebright represents.

ACCIDENTS IN COUNTY REDUCED

John C. Stirrat, manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, has announced that the County of Nevada established a very good record for keeping down accident costs during the policy year ending February 7, 1940 and, as a result, has received a dividend of $834.57 or 31.5 per cent of the annual premium. The attention which was given to accident prevention and the reduction of accident costs, together with the cooperation of county officials, has enabled the state fund to effect this saving for the County of Nevada.

THREE EMPIRES TO EMERGE FROM WORLD CHAOS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Three great world empires are emerging from the present world chaos and a German dominated Europe is not one of them, says Dr. Clinton Howard, assistant professor of history on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

The historian lists the empires in this manner; first, an Anglo-American empire which is federal in structure and essentially maritime in culture, having sea power as its great means of communication and weapon of offense and defense. Second, a Russo-Siberian empire of as yet largely undeveloped resources and potentialities. Third, some sort of a Sino-Japanese empire with either group predominating, just which is uncertain at the present time.

Dr. Howard believes that an Anglo-American empire may emerge in one of two ways; first, through closer cooperation of the British Empire and the United States. Second, in case that the British Empire goes down (and this he feels is unlikely) through a reorganization of the English speaking parts of the Empire around the United States.

Dr. Howard thinks that the results of the present World War will leave Europe broken economically and exhausted spiritually. Some parts of it may come under German control but what is more likely it may fall under hegemony of the Anglo-American or Russo-Siberian empires.

"In any case," he says, "Europe's control of the overseas world is probably broken and done. She may continue as a cultural center but her political and industrial importance will be destroyed. German industrial capitalism will be crushed by her powerful neighbors which flank her, the Anglo-American group and the Russo-Siberian.

FOREST ANNOUNCES CLOSING OF ROADS

Closure of the following national forest roads to public use for the period October 31, 1940 to June 1, 1941, has just been announced by forest service headquarters at Nevada City. Crystal Peak road extending from its intersection with the old Dog Valley road to the Crystal Peak lookout; state line road extending from the Lake Tahoe Highway to state line look out point; the Shafer Mill road extending from the Truckee-Brockway road to the west fork of Martis Creek.

The closure is for the purpose of preserving the roadbed from damage through needless use during the wet season. Nothing within the order will be construed to deprive residents in the forest from reasonable opportunity to travel to and from their homes.

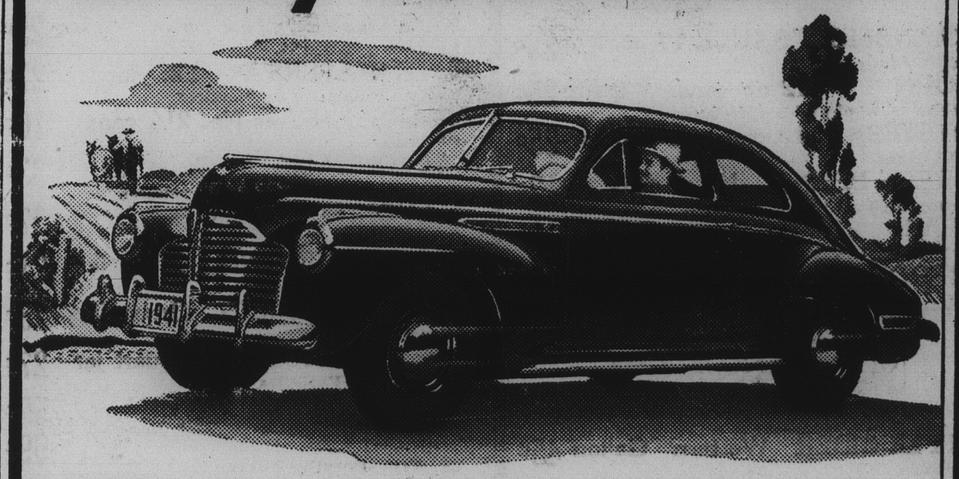
All Right—why DO we buy Automobiles?



DON'T you really buy a car for what it can do?

Doesn't the big kick come from being first off the mark and winging up hills as though they weren't there?

There's only one place in the world you can get such things—from a power plant that's up to its job.

But with enough power, you can have that flashing action—and economy too.

Our FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion let us use a standard high gear that has the same economical result as so-called gas-saving devices.

They step up mileage as much as 10% or 15%, wing you down the road at 50 on a 30-mile fuel diet.

They even make driving easier, since they give so much reserve power that you'll have less need for shifting gears.

We're not saying style and comfort and size don't count.

But when you can get these and pace-setter performance too —hadn't you better at least drive a Buick to find out about it?

DINNER WILL INAUGURATE 87TH YEAR OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN NEVADA CITY

It was in the year 1853 that Bishop Kip of the Episcopal Church in the United States traveled for forty days from New York to San Francisco by way of the Isthmus of Panama. Travel in those days was slow, but by April of the year 1854, Bishop Kip had arrived in the Gold Country where he held the first Episcopal Church services for the people of Nevada City on the twenty first of April.

Since that time, the group of people whom he inspired to carry on the work of the church in Nevada City have built two churches. One was destroyed by fire in the '60's. The present church was built in '63.

The people of the Gold Country have brought their children and dedicated them to God in Trinity Church for the past eighty six years.

Tonight the members of Trinity Parish are having their eighty-seventh annual parish dinner to inaugurate the eighty-seventh year of the Episcopal Church in the Gold Country. The dinner will be given at the Methodist social hall.

The present historic building has had several hundred dollars worth of work done upon it in the past weeks. This work was undertaken by the present rector, Rev. H. Thomas Pateman and vestry of Trinity Church with the assistance of the citizens of Nevada City, and many friends far and near. The people of Trinity Parish look forward to a bright year in 1941.

All tickets for the dinner have been sold and no further reservation can be made.

FORDYCE ROAD CLOSED FOR WINTER MONTHS

The Fordyce Lake road which was again put into condition last summer by the forest service, has been closed to public use under Regulation T-3, Section H of the National Forest Trespass Manual, according to a report from forest headquarters at Nevada City.

The closure will effect that portion of the road from a point approximately 1000 feet north of Rattlesnake Creek bridge to the lake and will be for the period November 1, 1940 to June 1, 1941, and for the corresponding period of each suceeding calendar year until the order may be revoked. The road is used principally by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and by the fishermen during the fishing season. There is practically no need of the road by either during the winter months. The forest officials believe that it will not be a hardship on the fishermen to wait until June 1 when it means the preservation of the road for future use.
